

What Do We Do with a Brain that is Wired to Forget?

and Answers to Four Other Big Questions about Learning and Retention

BEGINNING A NEW COHORT FOR 2016-2017!

October 19, 2016 • November 16, 2016 • January 11, 2017

February 22, 2017 • March 7, 2017

In this five-part educational series, Syfr Learning unpacks a revolutionary, cognitive solution that takes the focus of teaching and puts it where it should be: on learning. Educators implementing the Syfr method, created by the minds behind The Art of Learning, have consistently seen up to an 80% improvement in classroom assessment scores.

Each session takes teachers from understanding to practical application and is designed to radically change the way they design and facilitate learning experiences to impact student engagement, retention, and performance.

Topics in this series include:

- Inputs and Outcomes: Designing a practice that puts learning first (and measuring the results)
- Observe. Simplify. Connect: Using observation as a tool for connection and retention
- Retention and Retrieval: Stretching the brain to encourage total recall that goes beyond the test
- Association to Success: Accelerating and deepening learning using models and mentor texts
- Originality and Value: Applying new habits, skills, and knowledge creatively in the classroom Participating with a team is encouraged. The cost is $1378 per person, which includes $63 for materials and $65 for the use of Teaching Channel for support and access to resources. Lunch will be provided each day and participants will receive the ebook titled The Art of Learning.

For information, please contact Laura Carson at (817) 740-7573 or lcarsen@esc11.net. To register, visit www.esc11.net and click on "Register." For assistance with registration, contact Central Registration at 817-740-3659.

WHAT REGION 11 PARTICIPANTS ARE SAYING...

"This was an excellent seminar and I will be able to use many things in my class. The presenters were very knowledgeable and everything was very planned with a purpose down to the table decor, lunch, activities and lectures. This was the best seminar I have ever attended in my educational career."

"Relevant, applicable, and engaging. Syfr is one of the best trainings I've ever attended!"

